

We are HIRING

GASTROENTEROLOGY

University Hospitals of Morecambe Bay NHS Foundation Trust provides a comprehensive range of acute hospital and community services for communities in and around Lancashire, Cumbria and North Yorkshire.

We are now looking to appoint new people to join our Gastroenterology team.

The key aspects to the role are:

- The post holder will play an important medical role in the delivery of care to both inpatients and outpatients within the Trust.
- They will be supported to develop an area of interest which compliments the existing consultants. These interests include Bowel Cancer Screening, Nutrition, Upper GI cancer, Hepatology, HPB, ERCP and EUS, research and neuroendocrine tumours.
- They will consolidate and support the development Gastrointestinal services for the local population.

The role also involves participation in audits, training and educational activities and to maintain clinical excellence within the service. A seven day Bleeding Service is in operation.

- The post holder would be expected to contribute to 7 day endoscopy provision at RLI. The rota is currently a 1:5 during the weekdays and 1:8 for weekends. There is time allocated in the job plan for the GI bleed cover and a zero day for weekend cover. There is no requirement to join the GIM on call rota.
