

RNOH Advert Template

Please note all the boxes have to be complete in order to publish this vacancy

Job overview 1500 characters maximum Give a brief description of the role e.g working hours, what it takes and why this person should work for you. Potential candidates will read this first so inform, engage and excite.	12 months Fixed term - July 2024 – July 2025 An exciting opportunity has arisen to join the Foot & Ankle team in a supporting role of Research & Outcomes Coordinator. The purpose of the research and outcomes coordinator is to support the unit goals in collecting outcome and complexity data on patients and supporting the various research activities of the unit. This will involve ensuring patients' outcomes are collected and communicating with patients at all points of the patient pathway, face to face and on the telephone. Furthermore, the role is to coordinate data collection for the various unit studies, as well as supporting databases.
Main duties of the job 1500 characters maximum Describe what the candidate will do and the skills you are looking for. This will help someone decide if they want to apply. Here you will need to include most important skills and qualities as this is a summarised high-level statement about the role.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Main duties include supporting the Foot & Ankle unit with collecting of patient reported outcome measures (PROMS), collecting data on complexity, ensuring databases are kept up to date, preparing reports and present on the rates of PROMs and complexity data capture - To work with the Foot & Ankle unit to identify research and audit questions and help coordinate liaison with the information team to obtain relevant reports– - Extract data from clinical records where appropriate - Work with Clinical Nurses and schedulers to ensure data for operations, treatment and complications are recorded - Support collection of data for various ongoing and future studies – this includes data for post-market surveillance, and prospective studies

RNOH Advert Template

	Please, see JD for full details.
About us 1500 characters maximum Introduce the team, the atmosphere, the work ethic and the benefits at a local level. I.e. supportive team, training.	The Foot & Ankle Unit at the RNOH is a busy tertiary referral centre seeing complex neurological cases, second opinions. The unit is also actively involved in clinical research and runs a number of prospective studies. Collecting accurate outcome data is essential to the unit's research goals.
Job Responsibilities 1500 characters maximum Detail the duties, responsibilities, and key relationships of the job. The job description will be added in addition to this. Please do not enter the person specification criteria here. If your job description is over the word count you may wish to consider outlining the main & specific responsibilities in the below field and uploading the full	The post holder will be required to work with clinicians, researchers, patients and from time to time external stakeholders to deliver the duties described in the job description. Please, see job description for full details of responsibilities.

RNOH Advert Template

job description as a supporting document.
Hiring Managers Name	Karan Malhotra
Hiring Managers Job Title	Consultant orthopaedic surgeon
Hiring Managers Email Address	k.malhotra@nhs.net
Hiring Managers Contact Number	0203 947 0050